ALLOWABLE IMPERIAL ARMOR & APOCALYPSE UNITS

LAST UPDATE: 02.27.2012

Imperial Armor FAQs Accounted For/Minor Corrections

The following is a list of Imperial Armor & Apocalypse units that can be used at AdeptiCon 2012. Please make sure to check the Event column when choosing particular units for a tournament. The Warhammer 40K Team Tournament DOES NOT allow Imperial Armor/Apocalypse Super-Heavy Vehicles, Gargantuan Creatures, Super-Heavy Flyers or Flyers.

In ALL cases, only the most current published rules for any particular Imperial Armor / Apocalypse unit will be allowed. Please consult the list below for reference on which publication contains the most current rules for each particular unit. If you plan to use an Imperial Armor / Apocalypse unit in your army, you MUST bring a copy of the most current rules for that unit with you to the tournament, with no exceptions. Under no circumstance may you use the older rules for a unit so please double-check the list below to make sure you are using the most current rules. Please pay particular attention to the differences between Imperial Armor Apocalypse, Imperial Armor Apocalypse 2nd Edition and Imperial Armor Apocalypse 2.

Is it a skimmer? A flyer? Help! Imperial Armour units MUST always follow the rules for standard games of Warhammer 40K when present. For example: The Hell Blade (IA Apoc 2nd Ed., pg. 111) is defined as Type: Skimmer, Fast, Flyer (in games of Apocalypse) and would therefore be considered a Fast Skimmer in the Gladiator. In contrast, the Hell Talon (IA Apoc 2nd Ed., pg. 110) is only defined as a Flyer and would therefore use the flyer rules in the Gladiator.

Have a question or two about how some of these units might work?
