

WARHAMMER UNDERWORLDS BEASTGRAVE

ADEPTICON 2020
GRAND CLASH

INTRODUCTION

Welcome to the AdeptiCon 2020 Grand Clash tournament! Held at Renaissance Schaumburg Convention Center Hotel, Illinois, on the 26th and 27th of March 2020, this event is an amazing opportunity to seek glory and fame in the depths of Beastgrave.

The event has two components. The players will first compete in the Grand Clash Heats – a four-match event on Day 1. Based on these results, the top sixteen players will earn the right to proceed to the Grand Clash Finals – a three-match event on Day 2. This event will determine which two players will face off in the grand final at the end of the day. The victor of this final match is crowned the Grand Clash Champion!

PERMITTED PRODUCTS

This is a Championship format event, and uses all of the Championship format rules (see warhammerunderworlds.com for details).

PRE-REGISTRATION

48 hours before registration begins, each player must submit their name, chosen warband and decklist to the tournament organiser. The decklist should clearly list each card in that player's objective deck and power deck. You can easily create a decklist using warhammerunderworlds.com/deck-builder. Players will not be able to register unless they have submitted their decklist prior to the event!

Players must use the warband, objective deck and power deck specified in their decklist throughout the Grand Clash.

Decks will be subject to spot checks during the event. If a player is found to be using decks that vary from the decklist they submitted in pre-registration, that player may be disqualified. Please see the Appendix for more details.

REGISTRATION

On the day of the event, all players must register with an official appointed tournament organiser before they can participate. When they do so they give their name and the warband they are using, which will be matched to the decklist they submitted prior to the event. The player may then be given a player number that identifies them for the duration of the tournament.

Remember, players must use the warband, objective deck and power deck specified in their decklist throughout the Grand Clash.

Once all players are registered, pairings for the 1st Match will be randomly allocated by player number.

MATCH

Each Match in a Grand Clash tournament is played in a best-of-three format. Players should record their glory points total after each Game. See overleaf for details of how each Match is decided.

90 minutes are allowed for the completion of each Match in Day 1. 105 minutes are allowed for completion of each Match in Day 2. 120 minutes are allowed for completion of the Grand Final.

If the Match is not finished within the allotted time, the players must play to the end of the current game round, after which the Game ends. A Judge may end a Game after any power step at their discretion.

When the Match is decided, the players should fill in their results sheets together.

3 points are scored for a Match win, 1 for a Match draw and 0 points are scored for a Match loss. The higher a player's score, the higher they are in the rankings.

BREAK

In each break the players hand the relevant section of their results sheet to a scorekeeper, who will record the results. The pairings for the next Match are then announced, following the pairing system described later.

RESULTS

Day 1's rankings are announced following the 4th Match. The top 16 players will be informed of their place in Day 2's Grand Clash Finals at this point.

GRAND CLASH FINALS

The Grand Clash Finals is treated as a separate event from the Grand Clash Heats.

Registration works the same for the Grand Clash Final as for the Grand Clash Heats. Players must continue to use the same warband, objective deck and power deck specified in their decklist.

Pairings for the 1st Match of the Grand Clash Finals are determined by players' standings at the end of the Grand Clash Heats.

After the 3rd Match on Day 2, the top two players will be informed of their place in the Grand Final.

After the Grand Final, the winner will be the Grand Clash Champion.

PRIZES

Prizes will be awarded to the players ranked in the top 64, the top 32, the top 16, the top 8, the top 4, and to the player in first place. The prize tiers are cumulative, so for example the player in first place will receive the prizes for all other tiers as well.

There will also be a 'Best in Faction' award for the top placed warband from each faction after the Grand Clash Heats. For example, if three players use Skaeth's Wild Hunt at the Grand Clash, the player among them who places highest in the final rankings will receive this award.

One player will also receive the 'Best-Painted Warband' award after the Grand Clash Heats, as described overleaf.

The prizes for the players in the top 64, the top 32 and the top 16 will be awarded at the end of the Grand Clash Heats on Day 1, along with the Best-Painted Warband award and Best in Faction awards.

Prizes for the players ranked in the top 8 and the top 4 will be awarded after Match 3 of the Grand Clash Final. The prize for the player in first place will be awarded at the end of the Grand Final.

BEST-PAINTED WARBAND

Many players will choose to paint and base their warbands for the Grand Clash. Of those that choose to do so, a few heroic individuals will go to even greater lengths and produce a warband of such stunning quality that playing against it becomes a reward in and of itself.

To acknowledge those who go to the effort of making an incredible warband for the Grand Clash, the AdeptiCon judges will scour the halls during the Matches, seeking out those warbands which stand head and shoulders above the rest. The player whose warband is chosen as the best by the judges will receive the 'Best-Painted Warband' award during the award ceremony.

DECIDING EACH MATCH

Once a Game ends, each player must record their result for that Game, in order to help you remember the relevant details when deciding who has won the Match overall. You will need to record a win, loss or a draw for each player and their total glory points after each Game.

The results of each Game are decided as described under 'Victory' in the WU rulebook.

If one player wins two Games, the Match ends and that player wins the Match.

Otherwise, at the end of the Match, if one player has won one Game and the other player has won no Games, the player who has won one Game wins the Match (regardless of the number of Games played).

Otherwise, at the end of the Match, if the players have won an equal number of games, the Match is a draw (regardless of the number of Games played).

SCORES AND RANKINGS

3 points are scored for a Match win, 1 for a Match draw and 0 points are scored for a Match loss. The higher a player's score, the higher they are in the rankings.

Where there is a tie, number of Games lost is used as a tiebreaker (fewest Games lost wins).

If there is still a tie, total glory points difference is used as a tiebreaker (largest positive points difference wins).

For the purposes of final rankings, in the unlikely event that there is still a tie, the players tied must roll off as described in the WU rules. Whichever player wins the roll-off is the victor. If there are more than two players tied, the losers of the first roll-off then roll off against each other in the same way, until all the places are decided.

PAIRING SYSTEM

Match 1

For Match 1, pairings are randomly generated. If there are an odd number of players, one player (determined randomly) will play against our Spare Player – the results of the Match will stand as normal.

Subsequent Matches

For subsequent Matches, pairings are allocated as follows:

Players are split into groups according to their tournament score so far. In the second Match, for example, there will be a group with 3 points (1 win), a group with 0 points (1 loss), and potentially a group with 1 point (1 draw).

Within each group, pairings are generated randomly.

If a group contains an odd number of players, the lowest-ranked player in that group is paired with a random player from the group below theirs. Within each group, players are ranked according to the tiebreaker categories (glory points difference and Games lost). Where players within a group have the same ranking after tiebreakers, rankings for those players are determined randomly.

If there are an odd number of players in the bottom group (after any adjustments for the groups above them, as described above), one of those players (determined randomly) will play against our Spare Player – the results of that Match will stand as normal. No player will play against the Spare Player more than once over the Grand Clash.

Players in the Grand Clash Heats will not be paired with an opponent they have already faced.

Matches in the Grand Clash Finals

Using the results from Day 1 as a seed, the top sixteen players from Day 1 will be paired against each other on Day 2. The highest-ranked player amongst this group is paired with the lowest-ranked player, then the second highest-ranked player is paired with the second lowest-ranked player, and so on. After each Match on Day 2, players will be split into groups as described above and then paired randomly within their group, based on their Grand Clash Finals results alone.

If a group contains an odd number of players, the lowest-ranked player in that group is instead paired with a random player from the group below theirs.

If there are an odd number of players in the bottom group (after any adjustments for the groups above them, as described above), one of those players (determined randomly) will play against our Spare Player – the results of that Match will stand as normal.

Players will not be paired with an opponent they have already faced – where that would happen they are paired with the next lowest-ranked player instead, and the other pairings are adjusted accordingly.

APPENDIX

ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Everyone who partakes in a Warhammer Underworlds (WU) tournament is a participant, and each participant has a role, and responsibilities that go with that role. The purpose of these roles and responsibilities is to ensure that everyone is clear about how one of these events is run, and to ensure that everyone has a good time!

The different roles in a WU tournament are as follows:

- Organiser
- Judge
- Head Judge
- Scorekeeper
- Player
- Spectator

Organiser

Each WU tournament has a single organiser. This person is responsible for all aspects of organising the tournament, including but not limited to securing a venue, organising sufficient space and playing surfaces for the players, appointing judges – including a head judge – and scorekeepers, and ensuring the smooth running of the tournament during the event. This may include organising the pairings for each match. The organiser also has the authority to expel from the tournament anyone who fails to follow their responsibilities as set out in this document. The organiser can also be a head judge, judge and/or scorekeeper.

Judge

Each WU tournament can have any number of judges. Judges are responsible for observing the games as they are played, enforcing the rules of the tournament, answering rules questions (including away from the playing area, if they deem it reasonable) and settling disputes between players. As such they must have in-depth and up-to-date knowledge of the game, including all recent FAQs and clarifications. A judge's ruling can be challenged – if a player wishes to challenge a judge's ruling it should be referred to the head judge, who has the final ruling (which may overturn the judge's ruling). A judge can also be a scorekeeper.

Head Judge

Each WU tournament has a single head judge. The head judge is responsible for making the final ruling where necessary in the case of disputes between players (their rulings cannot be challenged), and as such must have in-depth and up-to-date knowledge of the game, including all recent FAQs and clarifications. The head judge has the authority to sanction players, including ruling a game forfeited or disqualifying a player. The head judge can also be a scorekeeper.

Scorekeeper

Each WU tournament has one or more scorekeepers. The scorekeepers are responsible for accepting the results from each match as they are completed and entering the details accurately into the tournament records. They may also have the responsibility of arranging the pairings for each match, if they have been given this responsibility by the tournament organiser.

Player

Each WU tournament has eight or more players. Players are those people competing in the tournament. Players are responsible for bringing their own warband, decks, game boards, dice and tokens, and for following all of the tournament rules. Players are also expected to have a decent working knowledge of the game and currently available warbands and cards. Players can also be spectators when they are not playing a match.

Spectator

A spectator is any person at a WU tournament whose role is not described above. Spectators are responsible for following all of the tournament rules in the same way as players.

TOURNAMENT RULES

All games played in a WU tournament use the WU rules, alongside the latest FAQ and clarifications found at warhammerunderworlds.com. In addition, all participants are expected to know the following rules, which apply to all WU tournaments.

ALL PARTICIPANTS

Conduct

A WU tournament should be held in a spirit of friendly competition. All participants, whatever their role, are expected to show good conduct throughout the tournament. They are expected to treat each other with respect and behave in a mature and considerate manner, including during disputes, and players are expected to avoid unsporting conduct. Abuse will not be tolerated. The organiser can expel participants from the tournament for violating these rules (see Penalties in the appendix).

Wagering and Bribery

Wagering on Matches or any part of a Game is forbidden for all participants. Wagering is against the spirit of the game and could call into question a Match's integrity. Similarly, bribery of any kind is forbidden for all participants. Anyone wagering or offering or accepting a bribe may be expelled from the tournament, at the organiser's discretion.

PLAYERS

Advice, notes and devices

Players may not seek advice from any other person during a Match. They may, however, seek rules clarifications from a judge.

Players may not bring notes to a Match, nor may they take notes during a Match, whether on paper or an electronic device. They may consult notes between Matches.

Use of electronic devices is not permitted during a Match, although players may accept short personal phone calls at their opponent's discretion.

Miniatures

Players may only use official WU Citadel Miniatures in a WU tournament, and all miniatures must be fully assembled. Players must use the appropriate miniatures for their warband (the miniatures pictured on the fighter cards). Minor conversions – modifications to the miniatures to personalise them – may be permitted (or even encouraged!) at the organiser's discretion, but must still allow for easy identification of the fighter represented by the miniature. If a conversion is deemed to be misleading by the organiser, or if a miniature is damaged or assembled in such a way that it cannot easily be identified, the player will not be allowed to use that miniature: they must use an acceptable version of that miniature or forfeit their games until they are able to secure an acceptable version of that miniature.

A player's fighters must also be identifiable as theirs – players may find themselves opposing another player with the same warband, and to avoid confusion each player must be able to identify their own fighters without hesitation. Each player can decide how they wish to do this – e.g. they could mark the bases in some way – but the best way is to paint their miniatures. There are a number of helpful tutorials available if you're not sure how best to go about this: simply visit warhammerunderworlds.com to learn more.

Players may not handle their opponent's miniatures. If they need to push their opponent's fighters, they should describe to their opponent how they wish the miniature to be moved. A player can waive this rule for their own miniatures if they wish, and should indicate to their opponent where this is the case.

Cards

Players may only use official WU cards in a WU tournament, and all cards (with the exception of fighter cards) must be undamaged and unmarked so that they cannot be identified when included in a deck.

Cards may be sleeved, but where a player does this they must use identical sleeves for all cards in a deck (they must use different sleeves to distinguish objective and power cards) and all sleeves must be undamaged and unmarked so that no sleeved card can be individually distinguished when included in a deck.

Players may use cards printed in a language other than English, but each card is assumed to have the text printed on the English version of that card. Players who use cards printed in another language and then mislead their opponent as to the properties of that card may be determined to be cheating by a judge or head judge, and may be penalised (see Penalties in the appendix).

Players may not use the pre-release version of the Conquest objective card (identified by the 3 glory point icons at the bottom of the card).

Before each Game, each player must thoroughly shuffle their decks, then present them to their opponent who can then cut each deck. If either player sees the face of a card in a deck, they must state this and the deck must be shuffled and cut again. If a player believes that their opponent has not sufficiently shuffled their deck, they may ask a judge to enforce and observe a second shuffle.

Game Boards

Players may only use official WU game boards in a WU tournament. A player's game boards must be undamaged so that the grid is clear and starting and blocked hexes are easily identified. When placing the game boards for a Game, the players should work together to ensure that, after the player who won the roll-off has decided the battlefield, both players have sufficient space for their decks, fighter cards and other components.

Dice

Players may only use official WU dice (including those sold separately to the starter set), and they must be undamaged. If a player's dice become damaged during a tournament, they may request to use their opponent's.

When a player makes a dice roll, they must roll the appropriate dice in such a manner as to generate a completely random result. They may use a dice tower to do so, if they wish. Dice that are rolled off the table or that do not land flat ('cocked' dice) must be re-rolled.

Tokens

Players should bring sufficient official WU tokens to a WU tournament for both players in a game (the contents of the starter set are sufficient). They may bring alternative Games Workshop-approved tokens (e.g. those awarded as prizes in other WU tournaments) as long as it is clear to their opponent and to a judge what each token represents, and the state of each token (e.g. it should be clear whether a token is a move or a charge token, and it must be clear when a glory point is spent or unspent). If the alternative tokens are found to be unsuitable, the player must use the tokens they have brought from the starter set.

To avoid players' tokens getting mixed up, at the beginning of each Match, the players should agree whose tokens they will use. These tokens should be placed in easy reach of both players, and the other player's tokens should not be placed in the playing area. If they cannot reach an agreement quickly, the players should roll off as described in the WU rules, and whoever wins chooses whose tokens are used.

Playing Area

Each player is responsible for ensuring that the playing area is clear of any clutter, and that the state of the game is clear to their opponent and to a judge. For example: upgrades must be clearly associated with the fighter card of the fighter that has been upgraded, glory points must be visible and clearly spent or unspent, decks should be separate and distinct from their discard piles, and so on. Players suspected of deliberately obscuring cards or tokens in the playing area that should be visible to both players, or of deliberately obfuscating the state of the game, may be penalised by a judge or head judge (see Penalties in the appendix).

Power Step ('Pass.' 'Pass.')

For ease and speed in the power step, a player can simply say 'Pass' to indicate that they do not wish to play a card. When both players have done so in sequence, the power step is over.

Reactions and Reasonable Time to React

Players must allow a reasonable amount of time for their opponent to make a reaction before playing a card or taking an activation. In addition, if the player who does not have priority wishes to make a reaction, they should allow a reasonable amount of time for their opponent to make a reaction first. This requires judgement on the part of both players, but as a rule of thumb, a delay of 5 seconds should be sufficient. A player who intends to make a reaction but sees that their opponent is about to move the game on can of course make their reaction at that point.

If a player feels that their opponent is deliberately trying to prevent them from making reactions by quickly moving the game on, they can inform a judge. Remember that all players are expected to avoid unsporting conduct.

Timely Play

Players must not stall or deliberately play slowly to make a Game or Match take longer. If a player suspects that their opponent is deliberately slowing the game down, they can ask an available judge to observe their game.

Cheating

Players are expected to know the rules of the game, and may not cheat in any way, or through inaction allow a situation that is against the rules. If a player suspects that their opponent is cheating, they must inform a judge. A player found to be cheating may have to forfeit the Game (or Match) at the discretion of the head judge, or be expelled from the tournament at the discretion of the organiser (see Penalties in the appendix).

Timeliness

Players are expected to register promptly, and to find their opponent in a timely fashion when each pairing is announced. Players who fail to do so may have to forfeit the Game (or Match) in question at the discretion of the head judge, or be expelled from the tournament at the discretion of the organiser.

SPECTATORS

Spectators may not interfere in any Match that is being played, including by giving any information to either of the players. They may, however, inform a judge if they suspect a player of cheating. If a spectator is deemed to be interfering in a Match, they may be expelled from the tournament at the discretion of the organiser.

PENALTIES

The following penalties may be administered at a WU tournament when a participant is judged to be breaking the rules.

Warning

A judge or head judge can issue a warning to a player if they are judged to have committed a minor offence (examples might include delaying the game, not giving an opponent a chance to react or unsporting conduct, but it is up to the judge or head judge to determine the severity of the offence).

A player who commits the same offence a second time in the same Game may have to forfeit the Game (see below).

A player who receives three warnings in a single day of a tournament may be disqualified (see below).

Forfeit

The head judge can rule that a player must forfeit a Game if they are judged to have committed a major offence (examples might include having two copies of a card in their deck, moving a fighter when they are not permitted to or in a way which isn't permitted or disrupting the state of the game by moving tokens and/or cards, but it is up to the judge or head judge to determine the severity of the offence). A head judge can also rule that a player must forfeit a Game for persistent minor offences, or for arriving late (or not at all) for a Match.

It is a judge's responsibility to inform the head judge if they believe a player must forfeit a Game, but the decision is that of the head judge.

A player who forfeits a Game in this way records the Game as a loss with a glory points difference of -7, unless their current glory points difference would be worse than this (e.g. -8, -9). The other player records the Game as a win with a glory points difference of +7, unless their current glory points difference would be higher than this.

If a head judge rules that the same player must forfeit a second Game, they may consider disqualifying that player from the tournament (see below).

A player cannot voluntarily forfeit or concede a Game. If they do so, the head judge may consider disqualifying that player from the tournament (see below).

Disqualification

The head judge can rule that a player is disqualified from the tournament for persistent minor or major offences, for rude or threatening behaviour to any other participant, for any attempt to manipulate the tournament results through collusion, bribery or deliberately throwing a Game, or for any other offence deemed severe enough by the head judge to warrant disqualification.

It is a judge's responsibility to inform the head judge if they believe a player should be disqualified, but the decision is that of the head judge.

A player who is disqualified is removed from the rankings. Their score is not counted, and they receive no prizes or reward for participation.

Expulsion

A participant may be expelled from a WU tournament at the sole discretion of the event organiser. The participant must leave the event and if they are a player they are disqualified as described above.
